Each Doing His Share

The greatest evil of tax paying, is to learn that you are paying more than your share. Politicians not only have their own assessments reduced, have those of friends and supporters reduced, and even taken from the lists entirely, and this leaves the honest man to pay not only his share, but those of the dishonest man. This is no guess work; it is a plain fact and even the reduction of taxes is being peddled around for a percentage of what is saved the taxpayer by this questionable means. The state keeps a complete list of auto licenses issued in Chicago yet not one-half who pay the state license pay the city license when it is a matter of but a few moments research to learn whom the delinquents are. Gov. Lowden is everlastingly right when he asks that the tax regulations of the entire state be regulated. Think of a down state farmer on a $300 an acre farm paying for but $10 and $15 an acre, and then realize what this means to the owner of a small city home who pays more taxes than a rich farmer or even a manufacturer. If every dollar of property was equally assessed taxes would be very light but with the dishonest means now used, it is levying too heavy a penalty on the home owner and makes the tenant the economical and wise citizen.

With the building of the elegant new Stratford building at 63rd St. and Union Ave. the prospects of opening this street through from 61st to 63rd is considerably brightened. Very little property is improved on the desired strip and the cost would be very moderate if done now.

The Marquette Garage at 6346 Wentworth ave. has outgrown those quarters and has opened garage No. 2 at 111-13-15 W. 63rd st. near the Union depot where they will carry a complete line of supplies and have storage room for a large number of cars and trucks. Mr. Otto Styx, the proprietor, is a thorough automobile man, and understands every detail of the business and personally has charge of the repair department.

Paved Streets Being Ruined By Heavy Loads

The system of asphaltum paved streets, completed only four years ago are beginning to go to pieces in many places, due largely to the fact that the teamsters are using them for heavy traffic, instead of the brick paved streets. Yale Ave. is getting extraordinary severe usage as all the heavy loads of coal, building material, etc., are hauled on it instead of Wentworth Ave. which is paved with brick and can stand the traffic, or if part of the traffic was diverted to other streets it would relieve the strain. It is the same with 64th St. from Wentworth Ave. west, and that thoroughfare has become very rough and bumpy where not worn through, owing to the fact that the heavy traffic uses it in preference to brick paved 63rd St. Some relief must be given the residential streets, or the expensive asphaltum paving will be worn out before five assessments are paid. Englewood has never received its share of the vehicle tax fund which it used as needed, and not purely for political purposes just before the primaries and elections, would keep all of our streets in good repair, and allow the heavy traffic to be done on traffic streets. Our aldermen should wake up to this fact, and the street department should give us relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Marvin, former Englewood people but now of Iowa City, Ia., were in town the past week visiting old friends and Mr. Marvin's son Edward of Kostner ave.

After the Fire.

When fire has swept a bit of woodland the flowers that start the following season are often not the same as grew there before and frequently are strange to the locality. Queer legends have grown up to account for this fact, but the explanation is in reality very simple. Down under the surface soil these seeds have been waiting no one knows how long. They never had a chance before fire gave it.

Efficiency of Advertising

Advertising also works for efficiency because it draws in trade from the surrounding country and near by towns, thus enabling the business of a place to be conducted on a bigger scale. A non-advertising town gets very little outlying country business. People prefer to go a greater distance to places that show more enterprise.

When new business is drawn in from the surrounding country, and the trade volume is thereby increased, the stores can buy in bigger lots at lower prices. The expense charge for each article sold is reduced.

Thus advertising tends to create a community of active, enterprising, wide awake stores, that do business enough and turn their capital fast enough so that their service is performed on an economical basis.

This point of view is sustained by the fact that in any bright and go-ahead town, there is always a large group of merchants who are liberal advertisers and who get the best trade of the community and near by country

How It Grows

WHEN, on a street on which there are 100 telephone users, fifteen telephones are added, it means that we may have to provide an additional distribution cable to serve that street.

When the same thing happens on six or eight nearby streets, served from the same cable terminal, it requires new main cables from terminal boxes to the exchange.

Such increases from several localities soon call for additions to switchboard and terminal room facilities.

Finally a new exchange, with its costly equipment, must be built, and extensive re-distribution made of the outside plant.

These are some of the elements which enter into the cost of supplying telephone service to growing communities and which make adequate rates imperative.

News for the Housewife at Preserving Time

Here is a recipe for preserving syrup that will give you finer jams, jellies and preserves—and save you about one-half your trouble.

Instead of all sugar use only one-half sugar and one-half Karo (Red Label).

You will find this means clear, firm jelly; rich preserves with heavy syrup; and delicious jams, mellow and "fruity".

Karo is a fine, clear syrup, with a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit.

It blends the sugar with the fruit juice—brings out all the "fruity" flavor.

Furthermore, it prevents even the richest jam or jelly from "candying".

It does away with all the uncertainty of preserving, and just about cuts the work in half.

For cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

FREE A copy of the Corn Products Cook Book is all ready to send to you as soon as we receive your name and address. It contains any number of helps to the woman who expects to make preserves, jams or jellies.

The Phi Sigma Upsilon enjoyed a lawn party at the home of the president, Miss Hertha Sorenson, 8600 Carpenter st., last Saturday evening.

The community band concert at 87th st. will be a wonderful treat on Aug. 25th, and we hope that a large crowd will turn out. The concert will be held at 87th st. between Emerald and Union ave. and each one ought to do his or her part in making it a complete success. Let us forget the profiteers, the H. C. L. in general and enjoy one real treat free of charge. 'Nuf sed. Just come.

Mr. Sorenson, 8600 Carpenter st., is enjoying a visit from his brother, S. C. Sorenson of Milwaukee, Wis.

Delia McGinn, 7606 May st., was laid to rest in Mt. Olivet cemetery on Wednesday morning. Requiem mass was sung at St. Sabina's church.

Band Concert at Gresham
On Monday evening, August 25th, at eight o'clock the Chicago Band Association will give a concert in the park at 87th St., between Emerald and Union Aves. This organization has appointed a chairman in each ward to head a Woman's Auxiliary for the purpose of furnishing entertainments to the public in the various small parks throughout the city. Mrs. Albert J. Fisher has been apointed as chairman of such organization for the Thirty-second ward.

This will be an entertainment worth going miles to hear, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the people living within a reasonable distance. This is the first of a series of entertainments of a similar nature we can expect, if the people show their appreciation by turning out to this one. Mrs. Fisher has appointed Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Tidd of Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Arnold, Mrs. F. W. Dayton and Mrs. T. E. Harrison, as a Publicity Committee.

About twelve years ago, the Gresham Improvement Association started a movement to get the small "Park Boards" to take over that portion of 87th St. between the Rock Island tracks and Eggleston Ave. and convert it into a small park. Through its efforts the Board of Local Improvements carried out a plan of paving by making a narrow roadway on the north and south side of the 200 foot street, leaving the center so that it might be converted into a park. After a long fight, in which the citizens of Gresham lent their united support, and through the constant upport of our Alderman, A. J. Fisher it was finally accepted by the Small Parks Board, and an appropriation secured for the improvement.

This has resulted in converting a spot that heretofore had been a depository for tin cans and a growth of weeds to one of the most beautiful spots on the South Side. But it is the desire of the Park Board that it is not only to be admired for its beauty but that it should be used, and it has fallen to the lot of the Chicago Band Association to start a movement that will bring to the people in this vicinity an opportunity to fully enjoy it and it is to be hoped that they all will turn out and show their appreciation and enjoy its benefits.

A romance of mother-love in which the little star is a motherless waif who escapes in trousers from a convent in Italy and comes to America to care for all the poor neglected babies. Altogether charming, quaint and different from Miss Stewart's previous photoplays. Spurred by a mysterious, unconquerable mother instinct, Berenice flees the sanctity of her convent home and goes to America. There, revered by Robert Bruce, to whom her warm, maternal nature is a golden emblem of the happiness denied him by his wife, Berenice innocently accepts the realization of human desire until Mrs Bruce returns—then comes tragic bitterness to the little mother heart.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

LADIES BARGAIN WEEK DAY MATINEES

When the "Beauty Revue" reaches Chicago for an engagement of one week beginning Sunday matinee, August 17th at the Englewood theater there will be a rush for standing room.

This is no press agent dope for the show has been seen in nearby cities and comes here with the reputation of being one of the best, if not the best, attraction of a very successful season.

How it could be otherwise than good would be hard for the most blase theatre goer to conceive, coming as it does with a galaxy of stars anyone of whom has earned fame sufficient to warrant them in going out at the head of their own company

Heading the troupe is that wonderful half caste Chinese prima donna, Ada Lum, with her Oriental beauty, and Jimmy Cooper, the Beau Brummel of burlesque No less worthy of mention are shapely and pretty Helene Stanley venus like Rose Hemley, and a chorus of youthful beauties that will not disappoint the boys in the front rows

Comedy not of the slap stick variety, so common in the usual run of burlesque, will be supplied in bountiful quantities by Marty Collins, Eddie Hall, Morris Tolan, Chas Fleming and Billy Gumby.

Unlike most aggregations of this kind gathered together for a tour around the wheel which comprises 44 weeks and takes the actors from coast to coast, the ability of the members of the "Beauty Revue" are not confined to any one particular line of work. Each of them can dance sing play many different musical instruments, perform acrobatic stunts juggle and do features of legerdemain. Of course, none of them claim to do all of these things but they can produce some member of the company who can do one of them

Wedded by a selfish father to a dissolute cad whom she loathed, this pure young girl was expected to "love, honor and obey." The world called that right. Then she spurned the ties her husband had broken, shattered the lie that bound her, sought the aid of a decent man she loved. And the world called that wrong You who believe a woman has a heart, a life of her own, judge. But first see Hall Caine's mighty romance, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," a startling blow for justice to women and for freedom from moral hypocrisy As a book, it has thrilled millions. As a picture, it will stir your soul The problems of love and marriage are world-old, but it is doubtless true that they have never been as acute as they are in this era. Modern civilization with its new fields for women, has doubtless contributed to this unrest, of which woman's entrance into politics is but one phase In "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," Hall Caine presented a vivid picture, in which he attacked the sham of modern society The novel has now been put on the screen by Famous Players-Lasky, with Katherine McDonald and Fritzi Brunette playing the leading feminine roles.

TEACH LOYALTY TO FOREIGNERS

FORD ENGLISH SCHOOLS INCULCATE PRINCIPLES OF PURE AMERICANISM IN STUDENTS.

TRIAL DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Attorneys Begin Final Arguments After Ford Counsel Presents Dramatic Testimony On Educational Work.

Mt Clemens, Mich.—Henry Ford's counsel kept until the final day on which testimony was presented, the strongest arguments in their possession. Not until the trial was within a few hours of its close did they bring to the witness stand Clinton C. De Witt, superintendent of the Ford English school.

"Mr. Ford," said the witness, "was of the opinion that you could not successfully put over one idea while there were 52 languages spoken in the factory, so to promote that one idea, which was and is Americanism, he insisted that every workman must learn to speak the 'American'—not the English—language.

"There were 3,000 students in the school before the United States entered the war and the factory was practically turned over to government work."

Sample lessons were read by the witness. Parts are given as follows:

"Every good American loves and respects the United States Flag.

"Our flag stands for liberty, justice and peace.

"Its colors are red, white and blue.

"The red stands for love, the white stands for purity, the blue stands for truth."

"American flags," said the witness, "were used profusely in the school room and a silk flag always flutters before an electric fan.

Teach Americanism.

The men are taught that there is no greater title than "American citizen" and are urged to accept the advantages of education offered by this country so that they may fit themselves, through knowledge, to defend their liberties.

Pictures of great Americans adorn the class rooms, special exercises are held on the birthday of great leaders of the nation and finally, when the class graduates, it is presented with souvenir American flags and is given membership in what is known as the American [illegible] and state courts recognize a diploma from the Ford English school as an evidence of adequate preparation for citizenship, it was shown.

Through this testimony counsel sought to bring out that the man who taught 3,000 foreigners to love their adopted country and to respect its flag could scarcely be called an anarchist and that a man who sought every possible method to instill love for the Stars and Stripes in the hearts of those who come to it from foreign shores, could never have made the slanderous statements attributed to him by Tribune counsel.

Mr Ford, it was shown, loaned all his educational workers to the government at the time war broke out. The war department found the methods used in the Ford English school so valuable that they introduced them in all training camps. Henry Ford paid the salaries of the men he loaned to the government for the work.

Closing Arguments Open.

Closing arguments in the case opened the last of the week. Attorney Wm. Lucking led off for Ford counsel. He called attention first to the testimony which showed that The Tribune, not for intervention in Mexico because it thought such action would lead to conquest or at least to great riches for the United States, had found Henry Ford blocking its path just when its long campaign gave promise of bearing fruit. Thereupon, said the attorney, The Tribune set out to destroy Mr Ford's influence, to sweep him out of its path and to still his voice which pleaded for a course which would help the bleeding republic to the south to regain her feet and to strike forth on a new highroad of education and freedom.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland opened for The Tribune. He declared that what Mr Ford had done since 1916—when The Tribune called him an anarchist—had nothing whatever to do with the situation as it was when the newspaper stigmatized the manufacturer as an enemy of his country. He did not deny that Mr Ford had done an immense and valuable work for the government during the war but he claimed that this did not alter the facts as they were before war broke out. Mr Ford, the attorney insisted, was an anarchist at the time The Tribune described him as such, and the truth he said was sufficient justification for the attack.

Water and the Human Body.

The specific gravity of water and the human body is virtually the same. A body in the water is supported by equal pressure at all points. It is more likely to be at ease than under other circumstances. It is, therefore, more likely that it may move without pain. So cripples are often given their exercise in the water.

Miracles in Money

Messages to Seekers of Success

A city skyscraper seems a miracle in steel and stone. But it is only a vast number of girders painstakingly placed together—a vast quantity of bricks placed end to end and one above another.

Miracles in money are seeming miracles only. You can work miracles in your own life.

Saving Wins Success

You can have a big prosperous farm, own a car, or travel wherever you wish.

Men who have really succeeded spell it S-A-V-E. You can win the same success. You do not need a lot of money to do it. You need no great education.

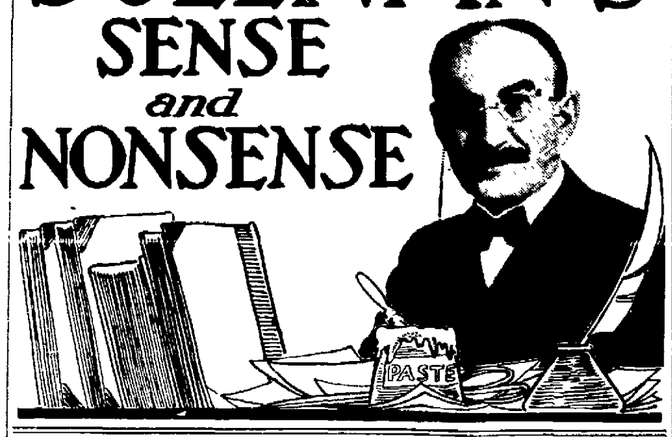
SULLIVAN'S SENSE and NONSENSE



THE PICNIC

The sand is in the sandwich.
A pig is in the spring.
A million flies
Are in the pies—
Oh, let us dance and sing!

The imbecile has rocked the boat
And teacher's in the lake.
But don't mind him—
He likes to swim—
The ants are in the cake.
We plod home in the gloaming,

Each meditating crime:
Oh, such a day!
We grin and say:
"We've had a lovely time!"

The bait costs more than the fish some of our boys are catching.

When a fellow can't do anything else these days, he can go on a strike.

Although a fireman is a hose supporter he would dislike being called a garter.

The fellow that got the highest raise in salary hollers the loudest over the increase in price that permitted another fellow to get a raise.

Where a strike is necessary to increase wages, it means a loss even if the strike is won, as the lost time counts more than the increase.

"Yis they are useful," says Casey referring to glasses. "But it meks all the diffurence in the warld whether you use glasses above or below your nose."

Casey says "There do be three kinds iv butther, atin, kukin and gracin' butther ond sumtoimes the grocer do be gittin' thim mixed in all but the price."

Casey stopped long enough to remark, "Betther git ye're shoes half soled, walkin' mebbe fashionable if the strate car min tek it into their heads to stroike."

I met Casey the hottest day last week and said, "Ninety-six in the shade, do you believe it?" "Begorry yis, Oi could belave inything iv such wether if there wor any shade."

While many youth are complaining of the 50c hair cut, there are a lot of us old ginks with a stingy pompadour that would give more than 50c to have the hair to cut.

The automobile nearly made the street car strike ineffective, and in a few years with motor improvements even a railway strike won't amount to much—who says the old buzzers are not of some use?

Speaking of a certain lady of uncertain age, Casey remarked: "Shure she ought to git a job in the postoffice, thot's about the only place she could git the mails to associate wid her."

She was a rather faded woman and she proudly told Casey that "Her husband had married her for her beauty," at which the philosopher remarked: "Will Oi bet he fales loike a widower these days."

Casey inquired of the garbage man who the new neighbors were, and was answered, "Shure Oi dunno who they do be, but they do be havin' mighty swell swill." A new branch of aristocracy.

"Yis thim comic uperahs do be very plazin' shows," says Casey. "The wimin go to say what the women in the audience hev on and the min go to say whot the wimin on the stage hev off."

"Wnin Oi wor yer age, me bye, Oi warked fourteen hours a day, an' wor glad Oi had the wark," said Casey to his son. "Betther kape quiet about it father, or they'll discharge yez from the union," rebuked his son.

"T'wor a foine recognition the Gould fambly gave us polacemin at the weddin' iv thare little gurl lately, shure they had 500 iv thim thare to represent the good looks iv the counthry," so Casey told me yesterday.

I understand that the girls up at the Normal school have decided that the man of their choice must have brown eyes, curly hair and an income of $2,000. I wonder what they would do with a short man with blue eyes and straight hair and $6,000 a year?

A physician has discovered that bald-headed men rarely have tuberculosis. They're not immune, but almost so! Now, let the hairs come out!

A Frenchman was waiting in a railway station somewhere in Ireland, when a couple of natives sat down beside him. "Sure," said the first, "and it's down to Kilmary I've been and I'm on my way back to Kilpatrick." "Ye don't say," replied the other. "It's meself that's just been down to Kilkenny, and I'm going on now to Kilmore." The Frenchman shuddered. "What assassins!" he murmured. "Would that I were safely back in France."

Pangs of jealousy were in Miss Coldfoot's heart when she heard that her late admirer had been accepted by Miss Lovebird, and when she happened to run across her in the bargain rush, could not resist giving a thrust. "I hear you've accepted Jack," she gushed. "I suppose he never told you he once proposed to me." "No," answered Jack's fiancee. "He once told me that there were a lot of things in his life he was ashamed of but I didn't ask him what they were."

A farmer boy shambled along carrying in his hand a packet which was sealed and addressed, with an inscription in the corner to the effect that it contained $100 in notes. Struck with the sheepish look of the man, a passer-by asked him what he was looking for. By way of reply the countryman held out the packet and requested him to read the address as he had forgotten it, and was unable to read himself. In a tone of pleasurable surprise the other replied: "By jove, the parcel is for me! I have been expecting it ever so long!" The messenger appeared satisfied at having accomplished his mission and added that he wanted half a crown for his trouble, which was paid on the spot. The new owner of the parcel at once retired to a dark corner to examine his treasure; he found nothing but a couple of sheets of printed paper, and in the middle a white label with the single word—"Sold."

There is a man in Bozeman, Mont., who will probably go through life bewailing the injustice of the draft board that certified him for service, despite the fact that he presented a letter written by his wife to prove that he had a dependent family. Here is the letter: "Dear United States Army: My husband ast me to write a recommend that he supports his family. He cannot read, so don't tell him. Jus take him. He ain't no good to me. He ain't done nothing but play a fiddle and drink lemmen essence since I married him, eight years ago, and I got to feed seven kids of his. Maybe you can get him to carry a gun. He's good on squirrels and eatin'. Take him and welcum. I need the grub and his bed for the kids. Don't tell him this, but take him."

Murder and Hold-Up

An automobile containing Robert C. Wilson of 6805 Union Ave., Frederick White of 6422 Yale Ave. Misses Edna McAver of 7011 Wabash Ave. and Marie Klauk of 7341 Union Ave., was held up by two amateur highwaymen late Saturday night on the main drive in Marquette Park. After searching them they said they would take the car when Wilson jumped for one of the robbers and had him down when the companion robber fired before White could reach him and both disappeared in the shrubbery to the south. Wilson was a student at Northwestern University, son of Mr. and George C. Wilson of 6805 Union Ave. and was buried from their home on Tuesday. The poorly lighted park makes a fine rendezvous for disorderly persons, and several cases of "hold-ups" have been reported from there before. The police arrested nearly 100 suspect and suspicious characters, and while all of the autoists had a good view of the robbers as well as those in a car following, no one has been able to identify the murderer.

Real Estate Assessments Being Raised

Landlords and owners of their own homes will be somewhat surprised to learn that not content with making the assessments on one-half instead of one-third of the valuations, that the valuations have been greatly boosted this year and in one case nearly doubled on a moderate apartment building. Tax payers will learn that they will pay from 50 per cent to twice the amount of taxes next spring that they did this year. It isn't so difficult to figure why landlords are raising the rents, is it?
